Central China Normal University Wollongong Joint Institute

Programs for International Students

Central China Normal University Wollongong Joint Institute (JI) is set up jointly by Central China Normal University, China (CCNU) and University of Wollongong, Australia (UOW). JI is a Sino-foreign cooperatively-run institution approved by the Ministry of Education of the People’s Republic of China. It is aimed at cultivating international high level talents with innovative and entrepreneurial capabilities, offering courses for master’s and doctoral degree, and conducting cutting-edge research.

UOW is a leading young university with excellence in scientific research and teaching quality, ranking among the top 2% of universities in the world. Computer science and telecommunication engineering are two key majors offered by the Faculty of Engineering and Information Sciences (EIS) of UOW. EIS has a world class reputation for excellence in research, strong collaborations with industry and government partners, and innovative approaches to teaching and learning. The concentration of high quality has ensured that the Faculty of Engineering is part of the Go8 – Group of Eight & Associates, the top research Faculties in Australia.
